Captain Lewis was asked by Thomas Jefferson to explore the Louisiana Territory while Clark gathered and trained more than 40 men.
Thomas Jefferson, America's 3rd president, made the Louisiana Purchase in 1803. This purchase from France nearly doubled the size of the United States adding an additional 820,000 square miles of land. The cost back then was only fifteen million dollars. Today, that price would convert to over two hundred fifty million dollars.
The Louisiana Purchase stretched from the Mississippi River to the Rocky Mountains in the west. Its southern portion stretched from New Orleans to Montana.
Many leaders were against the Louisiana Purchase, arguing that
