6 PASSAGES

According to legend, Rome was founded in 753 BCE by brothers Romulus and Remus. The two brothers were said to be twin sons of Mars, the Roman god of war. The story goes that the twins were left near the banks of the Tiber River as infants where they were rescued and raised by a wolf. The twins founded the city of Rome and fought over who would be king. Romulus killed his brother Remus and took the throne as the first king of Rome. It remained a kingdom until the last king, Tarquin the Proud, was overthrown. As a result, the Roman Republic began and lasted almost five hundred years.

Rome had a king, but it also had a Senate. The Senate was a ruling body that worked together with the king to make laws and enforce them. The Senate was also responsible for electing a king when the previous king died.
