

GROWTH MINDSET

READING ESCAPE

[illegible]

Orville Wright and Wilbur Wright paved the way for aviation but may not have had success if it wasn't for their often repeated failures. After years of experimenting, the Wright Brothers traveled to North Carolina to test their new "glider." Unfortunately, due to unexpected wind gusts, their glider could not produce enough lift to support a person. They used this as a learning opportunity to make their design more effective.

Wanting to build an airplane, the brothers contacted companies that manufactured engines, but none had a suitable engine. After weeks of giving up, they decided to build their own. In 1903, they had their first flight. They piloted the plane for 12 seconds.

STORY #3

Taylor Swift, a singer/song-writer, was born in 1989 in Pennsylvania. She was often bullied for her curly hair. Many classmates treated her like an outcast because she wanted to be a country music singer. In an interview with People Magazine, Swift says, "Really, if I hadn't come home from school miserable every day, maybe I wouldn't have been so motivated to write songs." Swift has had her fair share of success, but they came with failures, obstacles, and struggles along the way.

By age 16, she had already written songs for other artists. At 17, she released her first album, "Taylor Swift." It was a huge success, and she became a star.

READING #5

George Lucas, a filmmaker and producer, was born in California in 1944. As a child, Lucas was obsessed with driving race cars. He was in a terrible car crash that almost killed him days before his high school graduation.

Our mindset can have a profound impact on our personal and professional lives. Those with a fixed mindset are often afraid to take risks, avoid challenges, and give up easily when faced with obstacles. They may not reach their full potential and may miss opportunities for growth and learning.

In contrast, those with a growth mindset are more likely to embrace challenges, persist in the face of obstacles, and achieve their full potential. They are more likely to learn from their mistakes and develop new skills and abilities. Learning is viewed as a learning opportunity to grow from.

The concepts of fixed and growth mindset describe two different learning embracing challenges, 2) persist in the face of obstacles, 3) learn from mistakes, 4) practice and develop skills 5) believe in yourself.

HOW IT WORKS

ENGAGING READING COMPREHENSION PRACTICE!

Students work individually (or in pairs) and visit SIX reading stations.

Students will answer the questions related to that passage on their recording sheet.

Students will use that specific "decoder" to reveal a "clue" about the topic.
